

Poetry Writing Workshop

so much depends upon

glazed with rain
water
beside the white
chickens.

William Carlos Williams

Join noted poet Jim Klein and others for a writing workshop on Wednesdays* at 7:00 PM at the Rutherford Public Library. This is a peer-to-peer workshop that gives amateur and seasoned poets the opportunity to share their works-in-progress and gain valuable, friendly feedback from other poets. This is a free, drop-in program and no registration is required. All are welcome. Bring copies of your work to share with the group.

Rutherford resident Jim Klein has published more than 100 poems in such literary magazines as Unmuzzled Ox, Beloit Poetry Journal, Berkeley Poetry Review, Oxford Magazine, Journal of New Jersey Poetry, and Wormwood Review. While an English professor at Fairleigh Dickinson University, he founded Lunch, a nationally recognized college literary magazine whose contributors went on to found The Paterson Literary Review, The Passaic Review, and Lips.

* There is no writing workshop on the second Wednesday of the month. Our monthly poetry reading series "Second Wednesdays" is held at 7:00 PM at the Williams Center for the Arts, One Williams Plaza in Rutherford. "Second Wednesdays" is a free program featuring noted poets and open readings from the floor. Join us!
